

Local Boosters Set With Younger Drive

Prominent community and civic leaders Stephen H. Darcy, Joe Doss, Councilmen Ross A. Sciarrotta, and George Vico, co-chairmen of the Torrance Younger for District Attorney Committee, announced plans for an intensive person-to-person campaign in the final days of the election "to give Judge Younger's program for an all-out war on crime and its causes an overwhelming mandate."

Leading local Younger boosters active in the drive include: Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Bookout, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Clouh, Alice M. Darcy, Gil Derouin, Don Hyde, Joe Kasko, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Licht, Ray Pett, and Sam Shaver.

NOTING THE most recent FBI figures on major crimes place Los Angeles 10 per cent above the national average, Committee members stated, "The most important single step that each of us can take to make our streets our homes, and our property safe is to vote for Judge Younger, the only candidate with a program to win the war against crime and its causes."

They noted that Judge Younger has offered specific proposals for police recruitment and training programs, for continuing cooperation among the 48 law enforcement agencies in the county through a permanent coordinating council, for around-the-clock assistance from the D.A.'s office to all police agencies, for new laws to curb drug addiction by reaching the addict before he commits a crime, for laws to protect minors from smut peddlers, and for updated crime prevention programs.

Judge Younger has more than 23 years of experience in the multiple fields of law enforcement — from FBI agent to presiding judge of the Master Calendar of the Los Angeles Criminal Courts.

COUNCILMAN Kenneth Miller told the mayor, "By your own logic, they (commissioners) tie themselves to the mayor."

Amplifying Miller's remarks, David K. Lyman said the mayor had the right to veto all members of the commission. "Once a commissioner is appointed, he is free to do as he pleases," Lyman said of the new ordinance.

"The mayor seems to insult us all," J. A. Beasley said, "by saying we'd tie a string to our appointees. With the new ordinance, anytime four councilmen want to do it, they can remove a commissioner."

THE NEW ordinance is opposed by the Torrance Fire Fighters and by the State, County, and Municipal Employees Local. It was, however, referred to the commission for public hearings and will be returned to the council for action when the hearings have been completed.

One of the prime reasons for the new ordinance, according to councilmen, is to make it easier to obtain a quorum. In recent weeks, absence of members has kept the commission from doing business—a problem that has resulted in at least one court case for the city.

Councilmen asked to have the ordinance prepared last week. At that time, Councilman David K. Lyman expressed concern that the thinking of all councilmen was not represented on the commission.

Youth Trio To Sing at Services

The Gospel Arrangers Trio, formerly known as the MYR Singers, will appear at the Torrance Foursquare Gospel Church during the Sunday evening worship service.

The trio, Elaine Howard, Linda Curtis, and David Schultz will present part of their Musical Youth Rally at the 7:15 p.m. service, according to the Rev. James P. Lowen, pastor.

Law in Action

The Newcomers, proud of their comfortable new car, liked to take week-end trips. On one trip Mr. Newcomer slammed on the brakes and suddenly pulled to the right and stopped on the shoulder. After that he could not get the car back on the right side of the road.

He told the dealer, and the dealer took the car and said he would fix it. At the same time he gave it the 1,000 mile check-up.

THE NEXT time the Newcomers were riding, the car started to pull to the right again. Nor could Mr. Newcomer turn the car back to the center of the road. The car struck a telephone pole. Both the Newcomers were hurt.

They sued the maker and the seller. The car maker had carefully taken all steps to inspect, assemble and put the car into running condition.

YET THE Newcomers claimed a breach of warranty, claiming the car was not fit to be driven. The court upheld them.

their car normally. Yet, this had resulted in their injury. The jury could infer that the car had a flaw for which the maker was to blame.

Most contracts limit the time and the mileage that the car warranty is good for. They also say that the maker is only liable for the replacement of defective parts. As a rule, the builder promises nothing more.

BUT SUCH broad limits do not always stand up in court. When a maker sells something dangerous, if it has defects, he cannot thus limit his liability. Such limitations, the courts say, are against public policy.

Many warranties exclude liability for tire defects. Yet in one case, just as the car left the showroom, a wheel came off and struck down a bystander. Again, the court found a breach of warranty, even though the bystander was not the purchaser. The maker and the seller were liable.

A manufacturer's "implied warranty" usually protects persons within the immediate area of ordinary use of a dangerous product.

'Y' Plans Halloween Family Fun

An invitation to all community families to attend the old-fashioned Halloween party at the Torrance Family YMCA Friday has been extended by Robert Philpot, chief of the Wamptusi Nation of Y-Indian Guides.

The fun event, which will include a "spook room," jobbing for apples, costume parade, and the movie, "The Ghost and Mrs. Muir," will begin at 7 p.m. The YMCA is located at 2080 Washington Ave. Admission is a can of food which will be given to impoverished Navajo Indians at Christmas time.

The Y's annual service project is providing warm clothes, toys, candy and canned food to more than 2,000

Navajos at Cedar Ridge in a barren desert reservation located in Arizona. YMCAs teenagers personally deliver the gifts collected each fall.
